Clayton County Public Schools Delays Meal Services on October 29

District reacts to changing inclement weather patterns

JONESBORO – Clayton County Public Schools (CCPS) will delay its meal services programs on Thursday, October 29, 2020. This decision was made by district leadership after reviewing changes in forecasted inclement weather as reported by the National Weather Service and conferring with local and regional emergency agencies.

While all scheduled virtual instruction and athletic events will continue as planned, School Nutrition Services and Transportation employees will report to work at 10:00 a.m., which will result in a delay in food delivery programs to students and their families as late as 12:00 noon and/or 12:30 p.m. CCPS encourages everyone to remain safe and out of any adverse situations caused by the weather.

As part of standard protocols, district leadership will continue to rely on updates from local and state weather monitoring agencies and provide information designed to encourage safety and staying connected. Stakeholders can stay informed regarding any potential weather developments and the status of Clayton County Public Schools, district operations and related events through the following media/platforms:

- ❖ Local News/Weather Stations
- ❖ CCPS SchoolMessenger phone and email
- ❖ CCPS Infinite Campus portal
- ❖ CCPS Information – e-blast to employees and stakeholders
- ❖ CCPS Channel 24
- ❖ CCPS Website: www.clayton.k12.ga.us
- ❖ CCPS Social Media platforms
- ❖ CCPS Mobile APP
